

ABSTRACT

Writing a control flag in a processor control register by a guest virtual machine. Determine whether the control flag is owned by the guest virtual machine. Write the control flag to the processor control register if the control flag is owned by the guest virtual machine. Write the control flag to a shadow location if the control flag is not owned by the guest virtual machine.